Are you in a Same-Sex Relationship?

Research Description & Purpose: Researchers at Georgia State University want to learn about some common behavioral patterns in same-sex couples. This information will be used to develop culturally-sensitive recommendations and programs to promote healthy intimate relationships among same-sex couples.

Would the study be a good fit for me and my partner? This study may be a good fit for you if:

- You are both 21 years or older
- Are currently in a same-sex relationship

What would happen if my partner and I want to take part in the study? We invite you to call or visit one of our webpages to learn more. Couples who take part get up to $100 each for their time. Participation times can range between 2 and 8 hours.

Contact Information: To take part in this research study or for more information, please contact us at (404) 413-6199, or fill out a short contact form at: https://tinyurl.com/passionstudy

PI Name, department & address: The principal researcher for this study is Dr. Dominic Parrott at the Department of Psychology at Georgia State University. This study is funded by the National Institutes of Health.